

Naveen Jain

Chief Executive Officer
TransOrg Solutions & Services (P) Ltd.

After a long and fulfilling career with American Express, a global financial services organization, Naveen has launched a company in the analytics and business advisory space – TransOrg Solutions & Services. He has teamed up with senior executives and a US company to offer ‘business building’ analytics solutions to a range of industries from retail to Financial Services and healthcare.

Naveen has 17 years of diverse experience across functions including analytics, business & product development, consulting, off-shoring, operations, finance and investment banking. In his most recent role as Vice President with American Express, Naveen was leading a marketing analytics team.

Naveen joined the dynamic Financial Services sector and during his career he has actively sought opportunities to move across functions to gain an understanding of running businesses and building high performing organizations. He has worked at senior level positions and has led cross-functional teams in global and multicultural environments. With this rich experience and an extensive relationship network, Naveen felt confident about setting up TransOrg.

Analytics is the science of uncovering deeper, hidden relationships from within data to make more effective decisions. It is at a nascent stage in India and will witness a tremendous growth in the near future. Naveen is working with corporate clients to build awareness about analytics and how it can be used to out-perform competition and drive profitable growth. Naveen’s goal is to establish TransOrg as a top player in analytics field, and offer forward looking & cost effective solutions to both Indian and global organizations.

Naveen is an engineer from Delhi College of Engineering and MBA from IMT, Ghaziabad
